The PCs go to the Library to ask for a book. At the entrance they get hit by a man leaving at the same time. He is an untidy man with a sparse beard and lost eyes. When they ask for the book, and the librarian gives them an old tome. As they sit to check it, they realize it is not the book they have asked for, but a tome full of handwritten notes in different inks and with different dates (separated by lots of years), but all with the same calligraphy: As they are checking some information, they realize that the person sitting in front of them is taking notes in a strange alphabet, not from any known language. The book the man is checking is titled 'Basic Biology'. Who is the man? What is he noting down? As they look for a tome in the farthest bookcases, the PCs realize that no matter how many ways they try they cannot find the way back to the reading room. They are trapped among the bookcases. Has the book of arcane knowledge they wanted to take out anything to see with it?
